Smiley Faces

Unit 174 has provided these to give players an easy, non-confrontational way of letting partner/opponents know that their behavior is not conforming to the Zero Tolerance guidelines.

If you feel the situation warrants, simply pull out the card and lay it on the table for a short period. If the behavior doesn't stop, then call the director. It really is a good way to lessen the tension at the table.

Shirely Stanton Morning Side Game Series

How can we ever repay Shirley Stanton for instilling in us our passion for the game of bridge? Several years ago, she graciously agreed to teach a small group of us new to duplicate. Little did we know how much we would come to admire and respect our tender, loving teacher.

Shirley gave us lessons covering the typical bridge topics, as well as the importance of proper etiquette, how to be a good partner, and how to encourage others. She endured our many questions with kindness and patience and never seemed to tire of having to go over things again and again and again. But Shirley did much more than that – she gave us a life-long love of the game – a priceless gift.

Unit 174 has acknowledged Shirley's contribution to the game by giving her the GoodWill Award. This award recognizes her as someone who exemplifies sportsmanship at the table. We are so happy that many others see her as we do. She is the epitome of grace and graciousness both at the table and away from the table.

It has been our good fortune to be her students and we are proud to name this event in her honor.

Kathy Watkins and Terri Orlean

David & Elizabeth Swig Friday Morning/Afternoon IN Pairs

David and Elizabeth "Libby" Swig were constant in their affection for the game and in their service to the bridge community. Both became life masters in the early 1960's and continued to play for the rest of their lives. Wherever they resided — Cincinnati, Houston, Denver, Connecticut, New Jersey, Virginia, Holland, or Brazil — they were beacons for new players and often held regular small games at their home.

While living in Connecticut, Libby wrote columns for the ACBL's Bridge Bulletin. While traveling across the Atlantic on the ocean liner, Michelangelo, she partnered with the captain at the ship's "bridge tournament" and came home with the winner's trophy as a souvenir. Libby played bridge intuitively and with a lively spirit, much the way she met life in general.

Dave was a methodical and analytical player. His main "exercise" was testing theories of bridge bidding and play. He shared his skill and knowledge with others, and taught many how to play the game. It gave him great satisfaction to see his "students" develop into skillful players. He played a bridge game that brought him many victories and well-deserved renown as a bridge strategist and theoretician.

Louise Swig and Richard Fox

Bob Morris
Morning Stratified
Friday-Saturday Swiss

Bob Morris, one of Houston's top players, is recognized as one of the ACBL's best teachers. Bob Morris, a Grand Life Master, has proven himself not only at the bridge table, amassing almost 14,000 masterpoints and a couple national titles, but is to be admired for his clear and concise bridge training for his students. Bob teamed with Eddie Wold completing his first bridge cruise in December. The class was spellbound by the presentation and the amount of bridge information they were given. Most all are looking forward to going on their next cruise in August. Your friends and students wanted to say "thank you" for all you've done to better our bridge game!

Your girls –
 Betty, Bobbi, Dianna, Jane & Peaches

Jim Woodward
Aft/Eve Side Game Series

Jim Woodward is one of those unpaid volunteers who do their jobs so efficiently they never receive the appreciation they deserve. As Unit 174 Treasurer, Jim is responsible for preparing monthly financial statements and budgets that provide the information the Board of Directors needs to manage the Unit's business in a fiscally responsible manner. He attends the monthly Board meeting to present this information. He writes all of the Unit's checks, and deposits all of the Unit's receipts. This is quite onerous during the annual regional tournament and four annual sectionals. He coordinates the annual financial audit, and files the federal income tax filings.

After a successful 30 year career with Shell in finance, Jim is now practicing law. Jim brings a lot of expertise to the Unit, but what makes him so valuable is his attitude. He is very easy to work with and bends over backward to help the Board members.

Anna Marlatt Bracketed KO #6

Anna Marlatt is an asset to the Houston Bridge Studio. Her dedication and hard work for the Sunday Swiss Team shows her love for the bridge game. She is very organized and spends hours setting up teams everyone. At times, she could convince just about anyone that they are indeed joining "the best team in town." Many thanks to Anna from your Swiss team friends on Sunday night.
